"When to be gone?" asked Jack.
"We're not looking for answers on our way,"
whispered the three ghastly women.
Jack stepped onto the ground.
He stepped on a large green worm.
"Oh, it was nothing..."

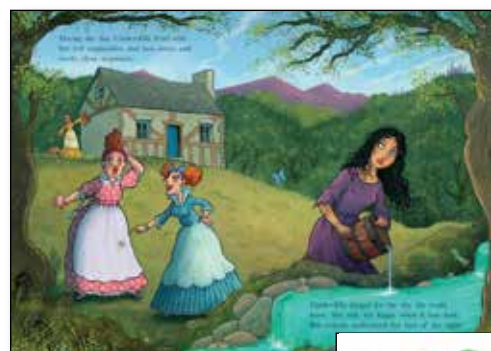

"Gallows humor will have young fans... simultaneously giggling and cringing. Perfect for the next generation of thrill seekers who aren't afraid of the big bad wolf."

—Foreword Reviews

"It will be a red hood. The animal of a
fox. The one with two shining red eyes, and glowing yellow teeth."
It must be the wolf whisperer.
In the woods,
it will look as one hood.
I will be the wolf.
And you'll be dead.
This will be mine!

"That how will I get to the ball?" asked Cinderella.
"Instead of a pumpkin, I will use the haunted woman," laughed her fairy godmother. "The prince will love it!"

Coming Summer 2018

A Calf Named Brian Higgins

An Adventure in Rural Kenya
written by Kristen Ball

Thirteen-year-old Hannah Higgins is convinced her summer is ruined

when she is forced to travel to Africa and work in a remote village with her mom and uncle. Never having been to a developing country, Hannah finds the food gross and the community filthy. She has to live without electricity or running water. Then she is told she must attend school.

Just when she thinks nothing could make this trip any worse, she discovers people there are dying of hunger and preventable disease. Hannah becomes frustrated and wants to help, but when poverty threatens the lives of people she loves, all she wants to do is go home. This story is an adventure of personal discovery.

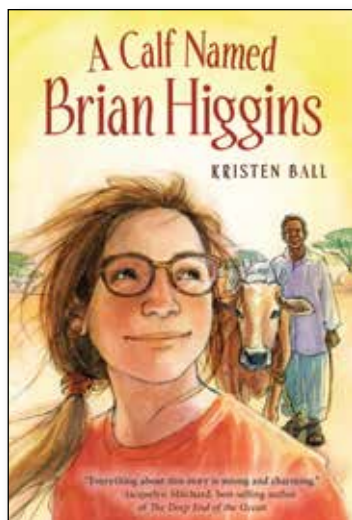

— Advance Praise —

“Everything about this story is strong and charming”

— Jacquelyn Mitchard best-selling author of The Deep End of the Ocean and What We Saw at Night

“A beautiful, heart-warming story filled with emotions...”
